Leo M. Frank, the man who

RIGA CENTER OF STRUGGLE

On Land and Sea—Russian Warships Protecting Gulf of Riga Compelled to Draw In Closer Owing to Superiority of German Squadron—Italy and Turkey On Brink of Rupture.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Aug. 20.—As the Austrians and Germans press on to the last of the outlying fortresses standing between the Russian capital and the invaders, Petrograd is discussing the advantages of removing the government to its ancient seat at Moscow, always considered the heart of the nation. Kovno is now definitely in the hands of the Germans. The flanking movement of Field Marshal von Mackensen grows more threatening hourly, and it would not be surprising if Grand Duke Nicholas should abandon all efforts to form a new line with Brest-Litovsk as the pivot.

From Brest-Litovsk to Ossowetz, which seems to be withstanding the assaults of the heavy German guns better than any other fortress, fierce fighting continues with the advantage in favor of the invaders. Riga has again become the center of a struggle on land and sea. Petrograd states that the Russian warships protecting the Gulf of Riga were compelled to draw in closer, owing to the superiority of the German squadron.

The landing of British troops at Suvla Bay, Gallipoli peninsula, is regarded here as a partial disappointment. The Turks had concentrated their forces in the Anzac zone, a little to the south, but were able to send troops north in time to prevent any important advance by the landing forces. It is believed here that no forward movement of consequence is likely unless the British are reinforced considerably.

Italy and Turkey appear to be on the brink of an open rupture. The Italian public expects war, which would give their army and navy an opportunity to co-operate with the allies in the Dardanelles movement.
On the western front the French now hold the cross roads between Lens and Arras, which, when in possession of the Germans formed a wedge in the allied line.

Germans Capture Another Important Fortress With
More Than 20,000 Russians

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Via London, Aug. 20.— Official announcement was made today of the capture of the important Russian fortress of Novogo-roegievsk, with more than 20,000 men. The statement follows:

"The fortress of Novogoegievsk, the enemy's last bulwark in Poland,
has been captured after stubborn resistance.

"The entire garrison, including over 20,000 men, and an enormous stock of war material, fell into our hands.

"The emperor left for Novogoegievsk in order to give the thanks of himself and the fatherland to the leader of the attack, General von Beseler and his troops."

The capture of Novogoegievsk has been foreseen since the fall of Warsaw. When the general Russian retreat was made from the Warsaw salient, Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, elected to leave a garrison in the fortress, rather than evacuate this position, as

CANADIAN STEAMSHIP SUNK WITH 1,000 SOLDIERS IN DARDANELLES.

The Royal Edward When She Loaded In Montreal at Beginning of the War.

The Royal Edward, chartered by the British government from the Canadian Northern Steamship Company to transport troops from England, was blown up Saturday, Aug.
14, by a German submarine in the Dardanelles. She carried 1,350 soldiers, 32 military officers, and a crew of 220. Of these some 600 were saved. She was an 11,117-ton steel triple-screw steamer, owned by the Canadian Northern Steamship Company, and is understood to have been commandeered by the government for use as a transport at the beginning of the war.

The Royal Edward was built in 1908 at Glasgow. She was 526 feet long and had a sixty foot beam.
She was modernly built throughout and equipped with wireless.

A former attack by a Turkish submarine on a British transport, the Manitou, on April 18, was not so successful. The explosion, however, caused a panic aboard and many of the soldiers leaped into the sea, about 100 being drowned. The transport was reported by the British admiralty to have succeeded in landing the remainder of her company.

25,000 People Hear Governor Willis
At Farmers' and Merchants' Picnic; Event Successful In Every Detail

The Farmers' and Merchants' picnic held Thursday at Mountbunders' park will go down in history as the greatest event of the kind ever held in Licking county. According to estimates of those who were in position to observe the crowd, more than 25,000 people were present and enjoyed the varied program offered for the entertainment of the visitors.

In the lighter diversions, the more serious purpose of the meeting, to foster a sentiment favoring a county experimental farm for this county, was not lost sight of. Speakers who delivered addresses urged the importance of this proposition and detailed the advantages.

That the movement is proving popular with the agriculturists of the county, was indicated by the remarks of approval heard upon all sides after the addresses were made. The cost is so small and the benefits to be derived are so great, that most of those who heard the matter explained were enthusiastically in favor of the project.

Boosting the experimental farm proposition was the chief object of the meeting but viewing it from a broader standpoint, it was also for the purpose of cementing the feeling of goodwill between the residents of the countyseat and the farmers and villagers of the county.

A. P. Sandies, one of the speakers, put the proposition aptly when he said that it was difficult, when looking upon the city of Newark from the hills, to see the point where the country left off and the city began. He said this was as it should be. That all lines of demarcation should be wiped out and that such events as that of Thursday would accomplish that purpose.

The fact that three organizations of immense strength, the Grangers of the county, the Merchants Association and the Grocers and Meat Dealers Association, were behind the movement explains its success. The most influential and broad minded men of the county gave their time and talent to the affair which is another way of saying that its success was assured from the start. There was no spirit of "Let George Do It." Each committeeman rolled up his shirt sleeves and waded into the work with the enthusiasm which means success.

And a success it was. There was no doubting it from 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning when the first committee men reached the park. Even at that hour the visitors were beginning to arrive and from that hour until 1:30 or 2 o'clock there was a constant stream of humanity pouring into the gates of the park. By the time Governor Willis was introduced as the last speaker, about 4 o'clock, it was estimated that more than 25,000 people were in the grounds.

Governor Willis described the crowd accurately when he said that he had been told that he was to address a gathering of farmers and merchants in a joint picnic, but that the committee had failed to advise him that everybody in Licking county would be present. He declared that it was the largest crowd he had ever addressed.

Credit for the immense throng is equally divided between the weatherman and the program committee.
Without the superlative weather, the crowd would not have been so large.
Even if the weather had been good and the program committee had not offered such a fine day's entertainment it would have been difficult to gather such a throng.

And all this entertainment was offered without cost to the visitors. It was Licking county's entertainment for Licking county people and with the expense divided among many it was not difficult to offer the splendid entertainment.

The horse racing was good. The athletic events were fine and the contestants entered into them with a vim that made them well worth witnessing. The ball game furnished amusement for hundreds and the speakers could not have been improved upon.

The day's entertainment opened promptly at 9:30 in the morning with the first of the athletic events. Soon after these were under way the first ball game was started. The arrival of the noon hour was the signal for the opening of the baskets filled with

The Spanish steamer Perla Castillo and the Norwegian steamer crew of the Perla Castillo were saved. The fate of the others on that

ANOTHER WHITE STAR LINER SUNK.

New York, Aug. 20.—Advices received here today bring a report that the White Star liner Bovic has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. The Bovic has been employed in the Australian service. She was a vessel of 6,500 tons.

The local officers of the White Star line were without direct news of the sinking of the Bovic, although they had heard the report, which came, it was said, from London.

The Bovic, it was said by the officials, was a freighter and on her last trip sailed on August 8 from New York for Manchester, England.
The Bovic is a slow boat, having a speed of about ten knots an hour, and according to the officials, should just about be in the war zone today.

The Bovic when she sailed from here, was loaded to capacity with a general cargo, including, it is said, large quantities of war munitions.
The Bovic carried no passengers.

The Bovic was built at Belfast in 1902. She is 470 feet long, 53 feet beam and 23 feet deep. Her gross tonnage is 6,583.

The entire crew was signed up in England and there were believed to be no Americans among the number. The crew consisted of about sixty men.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Aug. 20.—The best information now available indicates that a score or more persons lost their lives in the sinking of the White Star liner Arabic by a German submarine yesterday morning off the south coast of Ireland. Thus far, it has not been determined definitely whether any Americans are among the dead. Dr. Edmond F.
Wood, of Jamesville, Wis., and Mrs. Josephine L. Bruguiere, an American, who lived in Europe for some years, are missing.

The White Star line announced this morning that all but eight of the passengers had been landed at Queenstown. Four of these were said to be Americans. According to information cable to Washington, by Lewis C. Thompson, American consul at Queenstown, however, Dr. Wood and Mrs. Bruguiere are the only missing Americans. The other two —James Houlihan, of Philadelphia and Thomas Elmore, of New York, were reported by Mr. Thompson to have been saved.

In all, about 400 of the 423 persons on board the Arabic have been accounted for. The fate of the others is still in doubt, but as the hours lengthen since the Arabic met with swift destruction, hopes that the others may have been saved are fading.

The announcement that all but eight of the passengers were saved bore out earlier reports that the great majority of the missing were members of the crew. Captain William Finch, of the Arabic, gave testimony of the heroism of his engineers and firemen, several of whom remained at their posts to the last, to insure the safety of the passengers and probably sacrificed their lives. Other survivors say that the torpedo which rent the Arabic's hull killed outright several men in the boiler rooms. The torpedo struck on the starboard side about one hundred feet from the stern, near the location of the boiler room.

The torpedoing of the Arabic has stirred England from end to end, although on account of the comparatively small loss of life, public feeling does not show signs of running as high as in the days following the sinking of the Lusitania. That such a large proportion of the passengers and crew should have been saved in the short time available for the work of rescue, is regarded as better fortune than might have been expected under the circumstances. Apparently it was due to the coolness and courage of the officers and crew from Captain Finch, who remained at his post until just before the Arabic took her final plunge, down to the firemen who faced certain death to perform their duty.

Fine weather and a calm sea also contributed to the outcome.

In Queenstown everything possible was done today to assist the survivors, many of whom were without clothes or money. As in the case of the Lusitania disaster, the citizens of Queenstown came to the assistance of the sufferers and none went without clothing, food and shelter. A number of the survivors are suffering from minor injuries, but so far as is known, no one was in a serious condition.

With the main facts of the disaster established, the English public turned its attention to the possible effect upon relations between the United States and Germany. Definite word whether American lives had been lost, was awaited with more eagerness than any other detail of the Arabic's story yet to be told.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Official details upon which President Wilson will decide whether the sinking of the White Star liner Arabic was an act deliberately unfriendly to the United States, were still lacking today and meanwhile the president and all other administration officials while realizing fully the gravity of the new situation between the United States and Germany were keeping their minds open.

President Wilson left the White House early to motor to Philadelphia to visit his oculist and motor back to the capital this evening.
When he has a deep problem on his mind it is the president's habit to seek seclusion, often riding through the countryside.

The Death List Increases Slightly, to 116 In Texas;
Many Missing Are Found

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Houston, Texas, Aug. 20.—The death list from the Texas storm increased slightly today and the missing list decreased considerably. The known death list was 116 today, including 13 known dead in Galveston.

Some other bodies were found about Galveston but they were supposed to be mostly from the mainland.

The dead probably will be increased by a dozen or more when the Virginia Point Hotel collapse is cleared up. Twenty persons are listed as missing in this collapse and up to today no trace of them has been reported here.

Reports indicated that the thirty persons yet listed as missing at Bolivar had been found. Outside of these thirty the only other single large missing list was fifty hands on the dredge Houston. The fact that nearly all hands on a dozen other dredges working in the same vicinity near Galveston had turned up alive after two or three days search for them, relieved worry over the Houston crew.

A conservative estimate of the missing today was less than 100.
Reports from Galveston were optimistic for rapid recovery of the city's routes for food supply and for early establishment of wire connections.

splendid picnic dinners. Most of these picnickers had started from home at an early hour and their appetites, always good, were whetted to a keener edge by the ride through the pure air of the hills and vales of the country. There were no laggards as baskets were opened. Every man, woman, boy and girl, did ample justice to the well filled baskets.

The mothers were spared the trouble of preparing coffee and lemonade. The refreshment committee looked after that. Many barrels of lemonade and many boilers of coffee were prepared and served free. And if you don't believe that this generous offer was appreciated, you should have attempted to try to get a cupful of coffee or lemonade. There was a constant throng around the stand where the beverages were prepared and one had to wait his turn to have his cup or bucket filled. Fifteen hundred gallons of lemonade and 500 gallons of coffee, with cream when desired, were dispensed during the day. The coffee was praised by all who tested its quality. It was kept piping hot and with cream, made a delightful addition to the dinner. Ten gallons of cream from the Licking creamery was used.

The committee in charge of the events paused long enough to snatch a bite to eat and give others time to look after the wants of the inner man. Then they again got the program under way.

By 1:30 o'clock everything was in readiness for the first address of the afternoon. The grandstand fronting on the stretch was packed with people. The speakers in automobiles were driven up close to the fence and those on the program for addresses, spoke to the big crowd while standing in the automobiles.

And the big crowd was interested, too, in the messages brought by these speakers. They were given the undivided attention of everyone within the hearing of their voices. The close attention indicated the listeners were deeply interested in the subject of an experimental farm.

Cary W. Montgomery, field man for the Ohio Agricultural Experimental station, was the first speaker. He was introduced by Frank L. Beggs in a splendid address.

Mr. Montgomery, a thoroughly practical man, well informed on agricultural topics, because of his study of conditions all over the state, was well qualified to handle his subject. He discussed the question of an experimental farm from the standpoint of what it would accomplish for the county.

He told of his observations over the state while performing his duties as field man for the agricultural station and told how this state farm had been effited the entire state. He explained that a county farm would prove even more valuable because it would deal wholly with conditions arising locally.

He declared that this county was one with many opportunities and asked if the Licking county farmers were making the most of it.

The county experimental farm and agent, he said, would discover, develop and introduce the most efficient system or systems of farming. It would solve local problems of soil composition, crop rotation and fertilization, all important propositions to the farmer. Its value in increasing the yield of cereals alone would be worth its cost to the county.

Prof. Homer C. Price, former dean of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, discussed the experimental farm from the standpoint of its cost to the taxpayer.

He said that seven Ohio counties now have experimental farms and they have already proved a valuable asset to the farmers of these counties. He said that the interests of the city and farms were so closely united that it was natural that the Newark business men and the farmers of the county, should join in an effort to improve farming conditions.

Prof. Price said that the tax duplicate of the county now represented a valuation of $9 million dollars. The experimental farm, would cost approximately $30,000, to which would be added an estimated cost of maintenance of $2,000 per year. The cost in taxes for each individual property holder would be from 3-12 to 5 cents per thousand dollars of valuation. He stated that of the $9 millions on the tax duplicate, only $3 million was represented by farm property. The balance being owned in cities, villages and by public utilities. The greatest burden, therefore, would be borne by corporations and public utilities, he said.

With the cost so low, Prof. Price said it appeared to be a question of whether Licking county farmers wanted the experimental farm.

He declared it could be centrally located where it could be reached by all and used freely. He explained that, it should be the headquarters for family reunions, Grange picnics and other gatherings of farmers who could get all the benefits to be found in any other meeting place now established, with the additional benefit of instructions on agricultural matters and results of experiments conducted by the county agent in charge.

"I believe in farming," said Prof. Price, "and I believe in Licking county farms. The man who owns Licking county dirt, is indeed fortunate. I have never seen anywhere a county that I would accept in exchange for Licking county."

Hon. A. P. Sandles, former president of the Ohio Agricultural commission, who has been boosting Ohio farming for many years, dwelt upon the advantages derived from experimental farms. In a happy vein, he led up to this point, by saying many nice things about the fair grounds, about Licking county farms and Licking county people.

"This event today," he said, "is the high water mark in the history of the most historic fair grounds in the United States. I have been thinking what an interesting thing it would be if we could see an exhibition of motion pictures of the work done when these great mounds were constructed."

"As we were driving toward the city today, we reached the crest of a hill somewhere out there and looked down upon Newark. I remarked that it was difficult from that point to see where the country left off and the city began. That is just what is taking place here today. You are removing the Mason and Dixon line between city and country. Licking county farmers should be glad to unite with the merchants in this movement to improve agricultural conditions in the county."

"And, let me say now that Licking county is the home of one of the foremost agriculturists in the country. His fame is not confined to his county or state. Homer C. Price is famed from coast to coast as a student of agricultural matters. Licking county people should, and I believe do, appreciate him."

"I have also seen on my visit to Licking county, vast orchards of peaches and in the same vicinity fine herds of dairy cattle and I was impressed with the fact that Licking county was indeed the county of peaches and cream."

"In considering the proposition of a county experimental farm, it must be remembered that prosperity is for those who co-operate."

"In this county, there is being farmed approximately 100,000 acres. If something can be done to add to the yield of this great farm, one bushel to each acre profits are increased. If five bushels are added to the production, it means tons of additional prosperity. Do you know of any other way in which you can invest a dollar and get 100 cents in return?"

"Twenty-five years ago, Ohio produced 19 bushels of wheat per acre, and 25 years later the average was 14 bushels. This is much smaller yield than most of the European countries. Even China produces 21 bushels per acre. We are sending missionaries to China to teach them the Christian religion and China should even matters up by sending her farmers here to teach us how to raise wheat."

"The production of apples was reduced from 191,000 bushels 25 years ago to 41,000 bushels a quarter of a century later. At that time there were 273,000 head of live stock on Ohio farms and 25 years later the number was reduced to 153,000. And the farmer's expenses for fertilizer was increasing accordingly."

Then Mr. Sandles took occasion to urge upon the farmers the importance of dealing with his home merchants rather than the mail order houses. He said none of the mail order men came down to Licking county to attend the funeral of a customer, or to aid in carrying the casket to the cemetery. None of them "cares a darn," where the customer is buried. He told a few stories about the experiences of dealers with the mail order houses. He did not neglect to urge upon the merchant the importance of purchasing Licking county products. "The merchant must play fair with the farmer," he said.

"It's our business to get as much reward as possible from our hard labor," he said. "Let us get upon the broad guage track. If these merchants are willing to give you farmers a hand, take it and all pull together. Let this be the golden wedge which is going to open a new way to future prosperity for this county."

The schedule of addresses was so well arranged that there was but a short delay between the address of Mr. Sandles and that of Governor Willis.

The committee of merchants and farmers which made an automobile trip to Black Lick, almost to Columbus, was delayed by a hitch in the program at that point. The governor had not started to talk when the Newark committee arrived and it was necessary to wait until that part of the Black Lick program was completed.

The return trip to Newark was made in fast time and it was about 3:30 o'clock when the governor reached the park. Under escort of the Old Guard and drum corps, with Captain Matthew Bausch in command, the automobiles bearing the governor and members of the committee pulled into the race course and in front of the grand stand.

The introduction of the governor was delayed a few minutes while the Wehrle stove was awarded to Mrs. Mary Schlosser, 243 Lawrence street. More than fourteen thousand tickets were presented to adults attending the picnic. Mrs. Schlosser's ticket bore the number 12,339.

Governor Willis was greeted with cheers and applause as he arose in the rear of the machine to address the crowd. He acknowledged the greeting with his famous smile.

His address was not long and was made up largely of anecdotes and quotations which he aptly applied to points he was trying to make. He got the crowd in a genial mood early in his address by reciting several little poems.

He said that the committee had informed him he was to address Licking county farmers and Newark merchants assembled in a joint picnic. "But," said the governor, "the committee didn't tell me that everybody in Licking county would be present. This is the largest audience I have been my privilege to address. I am happy to see this spirit of co-operation between the farmers and merchants and glad to give a word of approval to such a movement. Only as we stand together, by patronizing and helping each other, can we both prosper. Farmers should buy of their home merchants and the merchants should reciprocate by patronizing home farmers and gardeners.

"Great as are our crops, they are not what they ought to be. It is true that our corn crop will be approximately three billion bushels, which if converted into money would be sufficient to pay for the Panama Canal and pay off the national debt and leave a couple of hundred millions for spending money."

"But we've got to do better farming in Ohio. Europe is increasing its agricultural productions five times as fast as this country. Our yield must be increased and the proposed experimental farm is one of the two ways to accomplish this."

Governor Willis declared in favor of a merchant marine to assist in handling the products of American farms and industries. He told of his visit to the Panama Canal when he saw more flags of England, Germany, Spain, Norway and other nations of the globe, than of American flags, at the mast heads of the freight vessels.

He urged better roads which would enable the more economical handling of crops, declaring that a reduction of 10 cents per ton in the cost of transporting farm products would save five millions yearly.

He also urged Licking county people to help Ohio miners by buying Ohio coal.

"Do away with fault finding and be ready to say that Licking county is the best in the state, then see to it that it is."

Following his address the crowd flocked around the machine to shake hands with the governor. He greeted many acquaintances in the crowd and many of them he called by their first name.

Governor Willis returned to Columbus in the late afternoon in the automobile of A. R. Lindorf, president of the Merchant's Association. Mrs. Willis accompanied him on the trip to Newark. On the trip to Columbus, Mr. Lindorf, W. H. Macey, F. S. Neighbor and J. C. Krieg accompanied Governor and Mrs. Willis.

When the members of the committee realized what a monster crowd would be present a suggestion that the event be made an annual affair, to be called the Licking County homecoming, met with instant approval on every hand. While no definite action was taken to this end, there is little doubt but such action will be taken soon. It has been suggested to set a date for the homecoming and arrange for the attendance of speakers several months in advance. The second Thursday in August was suggested.

To the members of the various committees is due the praise and commendation for the success of yesterday's picnic. Everyone of them worked tirelessly. Their enthusiasm was such that every unit of the long and varied program was made interesting and therein lies the secret of the success of the day.

The Wyoming Grange from Vanata, Ohio, had a large number of members at The Merchants and Farmers picnic yesterday. They had two floats decorated and filled with ladies and six auto loads of members.

RACES PLEASE IMMENSE CROWD; NO ACCIDENTS

The races which featured the afternoon program were interesting and the program was carried out without mishap. The pony race, in which four of the little fellows entered, was evidently the most pleasing race of the lot as the crowd seemed to take more interest in its result. The addresses of the speakers and the various races were sandwiched as the speakers had to occupy space in the track in front of the grand stand. The summaries follow:

First race, class A pace, 1/2 mile—Murray Clay (Warrington) 1, 1; Freddie K., (Keller) 2, 2; Jimmy Gray, (Clemens) 3, 3. Time, 1:08 3-4, 1:08 1-4.

Yesterday's Picnic.

The Farmers' and Merchants' picnic held yesterday at Moundbuilders park was a success indeed. Wide publicity, ideal weather, free refreshments, a strong program of speeches and sports served to bring to the park probably the largest crowd ever assembled there.

The program started on time and was carried to a conclusion without hitch or mishap. The promoters of the outing were delighted and everybody seemed to be pleased.

These are days of co-operation and it was with the idea of establishing more friendly relations between the country folk and townpeople that the picnic was proposed. Some of the Newark men learned of the desire of many progressive farmers to establish an experiment farm in Licking county and they said they would help to bring it to pass. The real object of the picnic therefore was to promote the idea of an experiment farm and prominent speakers were present to tell of the advantages such an institution would bring to Newark and the farmers.

Newark can not grow and prosper without adding to the value of every farm in Licking county and without contributing to every farmer's prosperity. On the other hand, the prosperity of the farmer is reflected in better business for Newark. Newark is dependent upon the farmer and the farmer to a less degree is dependent upon Newark. Their interests are cor.

Already there is talk of making the Farmers' and Merchants' picnic an annual affair in August and making it a home-coming event. It is possible too that a big corn and pumpkin show such as they have at Portsmouth may come.

The success of the big picnic yesterday is due to the Newark Merchant Association and to the Granges of the county. President A. R. Lindorf, W. H. Mazy, chairman of the executive committee and the members of all of the several committees deserve congratulations.

Democratic Wool Prices.

A representative of the Advocate met Mr. Charles Donaldson, the popular stock and wool dealer of Eden township, a few days ago, and made inquiry as to the extent of his purchases of wool and the prices he was paying for the staple. "Tell the people," he said, "through the columns of the Advocate that I am still paying Democratic prices for wool, though I pay the same price to my Republican friends as I do to Democrats."

Mr. Donaldson explained that he bought all the wool that was brought to him and that up to date he had been paying an average of three cents a pound more for the same grades of wool than he paid last year. He explained further that owing to the manipulations of the leading dealers who control the Boston market, the Western buyer was compelled to be very careful in making purchases. The manipulators seem to be able to control prices almost to an unlimited extent and manage the market to their own advantage. "Under these circumstances," said Mr. Donaldson, "I am paying the top notch price that I can afford, and when I pay the same customers three cents a pound more than I paid for the same grade of wool last year, my customers are generally well satisfied. For the same grade of wool that I bought last year for 25 cents per pound I am paying 28 cents now."

Russian Strategy.

(New York World.)

In explaining the evacuation of Warsaw, General Polivanoff, the Russian Minister of War, in his dispatch to the World, makes no secret of the Russian plan of campaign. It has always prohibited giving the Germans the general battle which they wanted so badly. Russia's first purpose is not to fight the enemy on his own terms, and above all to save the Russian army, at any sacrifice of territory or other temporary advantages.

If the Russians have suffered severely in their retreat, it is safe to assume that the Teutonic allies' losses have been almost equally heavy. The German press is already commenting on the "fabulous difficulties" to be met where all the bridges and railroads have been destroyed and the country systematically laid waste by the Russians.

If the Russians could have been encircled and crushed, the German victory in Poland would have been complete. But the Czar's troops, with characteristic disregard of military prestige, fight and retreat, and time and distance conspire to their advantage in the mowing-down process. By the same methods Japan was forced to seek peace, although victorious in Manchuria and on the sea.

Why Not Seek Trade Abroad

(Philadelphia Record.)

The Providence Journal, published in the very heart of industrial New England, a region especially given to the production of textile fabrics, propounds some questions which Protectionists, particularly those of the Penrose and Grundy school of thought, will find it hard to answer. The Journal, it should be said, is not a Democratic newspaper, but is independent in politics, and at times has been a very severe critic of the Wilson administration. Its views are liberal and based upon an honest desire to find the truth. Under the heading, "American Textiles in Great Britain," it says:

Though the Protectionists may insist that the Underwood tariff act threatens to destroy our textile industry, alleging that the manufacturers cannot hold the home market in competition with importations under the reduced schedules, it is surprising to know that they can successfully compete in foreign markets.

Why should they be downcast though the duties little more than cover the entire cost of labor, if by meeting the additional expense of transportation they can send their products over the water and sell them in Britain?

Our consul at Swansea, Wales, gives some interesting information regarding American importations into the United Kingdom. Sales of American woolen goods in the British Isles, though not heavy, increased in value from $52,843 in 1911 to $116,698 in 1913. Our sales of cotton manufactures also increased from $1,486,293 to $2,017,534 in the same interval.

Now, if we can sell two million dollars' worth of our manufactured cottons in the chief cotton manufacturing country of the world, as well as millions of dollars' worth in other foreign countries annually, should not our manufacturers cease worrying about the reduction of the taxes on American consumers, and make intelligent efforts to capture a legitimate share of the world's trade? Is there any reason why our woolen manufacturers may not also increase their sales abroad?

If the Grundies would stop abusing the Child Labor law and the Underwood tariff, and would pay more attention to increasing their market, they would be doing their country a service. The trouble is that too many of them are politicians and desire party success rather than increased trade through hard work. They prefer to make money by forcing the American consumer to pay tribute to them.

President's Mexican Policy.

(Ohio State Journal.)

President Wilson has given to the Mexican situation his most serious thought. He has no idea of engaging in a bloody fight down there. His methods are of the most peaceful character and yet they are full of definite purpose. The New Republic thus describes them:

The president clearly intends to work through the Mexican people. He does not propose to go in there and "clean them up." His plan is to select some prominent Mexican, associated with the Madrogo government, and create out of him a provisional executive. The man will have behind him the power of the United States, and his opponents will be hampered as much as possible by the United States. He will secure recognition, which means he will be able to borrow money, etc. Thus friendship of the United States means a great deal more than fighting or getting ready to fight. In fact, a neighbor nation cannot get along without it. The president proposes to introduce into Mexico the conditions of peace and order that these conditions are absolutely necessary to their welfare.

It can also be said that those who go crazy over a popular song make a short journey.

The longest vermiform appendix in the world was yielded by an actor. In what particular line do you excel?

When a man finishes his argument he is through. But when a woman finishes her argument she goes back to the beginning and delivers it again.

How long should a widower wait? In most communities he is held to have shown undue haste if he marries again before the grass sprouts on his wife's grave.

Up to the time a man is twenty-five he devotes his life to making love. After he is twenty-five his time is all taken up in devising plan to prevent other men from catching his jack.

Spirit of the Press

Sarah Bernhardt.

War has no heroes of greater grit than Sarah Bernhardt shows in returning crippled to the stage. Evasive as is her actor's art, France will long remember the voice of gold and longer still the spirit, that misfortune could never daunt. —New York World.

Great Britain.

Great Britain has become Greater Britain indeed. Sikhs and Gourkas are fighting in Flanders. New Zealanders and Aussalians are fighting Germanized Turks in Egypt; Canadians have won imperishable renown in Belgium; Dutchmen under English colors are fighting Germans in South Africa; and the East and the West are again fighting on the plains of Troy. Europe's New Map.

German professors are now exercising their intelligence in giving new boundaries for the Kaiser's domain, lopping off parts of France and Russia and remaking the map of Europe generally. It is an innocent and fascinating amusement and no one will object to it, for it is one of which everybody can play. Probably professional wisdom, now slightly under a cloud, would have more brightly, however, if it failed to see what the outcome of the war will be. —Philadelphia Record.

Did It Pay?

Early in 1914 a mill manager at Roanoke Rapids, a North Carolina manufacturing town, gave the energetic local health officer $1,000 to use in fighting malaria. Other men gave according to their means. The health officer cut underbrush, drained marshes, and treated springs and ditches with oil. Did it pay? In the late summer of 1914 the mill, with no change in management, machinery, or employees, was producing many more yards of cloth than it had been. There was no malaria to keep workers from the mill, or to reduce the efficiency of those who came.—Youth's Comp.

Corrupting China.

Do the Filipino girls who recently visited China, and who have been playing won them popular acclaim, realize that they are an insidious danger to the land of Confucius? Do they know that their visit to President Yuan Shih-kai has so much perturbed a Chinese student of affairs that he sees therein the shadow of impending doom?

The Far East, a weekly published in Tokyo, quotes this student, and gives the association of ideas in his mind as follows: "China has a unique civilization which is its most solemn duty to preserve free from the corruption of the material Japanese adventures may come and go. Japan may march her armies over the land and seize provinces, but the soul of China remains undefiled. The corrupting ideas of the West cannot enter the mind of the people by these means. But for the nearest denigratory of the State to countenance an American-Asian product, represented by a group of Oriental girls who have been trained in un-Oriental ways—here is an insidious attack on the Chinese national life." As a Harvard student remarked on a famous occasion: "Isn't that too darned bad!" —Manila Times.

"Over The Wire"

[By Dorothy Clarke]

I've made a perfectly astounding discovery . . . For years I've sacrificed one negligee after another to the gentle art of shampooing . . . I saw a bathrobe, in town, of lavender Turkish toweling and it struck me that it would be the most practical thing to buy it to wear when I have my hair shampooed . . . It works wonderfully . . . No matter how wet the hair is the toweling absorbs the moisture and keeps my shoulders from becoming damp and me from having an awful cold . . . It's really very pretty, too . . . Deep patch pockets and the collar, cuffs, belt cord and frog fastenings are of deep violet . . . It's much nicer than a light negligee just after a bath, too . . . I'm quite satisfied with my purchase and only wonder why I never thought of one before . . . Are you going to the dance tonight? . . . I'm sorry, for then you won't be at the dinner . . . I'll call you up tomorrow and tell you . . . Good-bye.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

A woman is as old as her eyes. They are indisputable evidences of the years she has lived and the experiences she has passed through. The complexion may be massaged and tinted to look like a baby's but alas for the utter sophistication in the eye under the babyish, flower trimmed hat.

You should take two courses of treatment, one for the physical attributes of the eyes and another for their spiritual aspect. Kind thoughts, tolerance, high ideals, unselfish deeds, devotion to the beautiful in art, literature and music, and most of all, sympathy for every living thing; all these, if a constant habit of mind, will give the eyes the beauty that charms, and draw young and old who come within their radius.

Now for the physical treatment. The eyes must be kept bright and lustrous for only so will they suggest youth. They must be kept from sinking, for sunken eyes suggest ill health and old age. Their lids must not be permitted to become red rimmed, nor may their lashes be allowed to thin out, as lashes will, after twenty-five, with most people.

If there is the slightest tendency toward swelling of the lids—particularly of the skin under the eyes, consult a physician, for this condition is usually the outward symptom of more or less serious internal disarrangement. Follows, or blue or purple shadows, beneath the eyes are almost inevitable.

Your Boys and Girls

A newly born infant sleeps profoundly during the first three days of its life. It is a deep peaceful sleep, practically continuous. During the first month a healthy baby sleeps at least eighteen to twenty hours out of the twenty-four, awaking only to take its food or if it is in discomfort.

Up until the sixth month about sixteen hours are passed sleeping, the child waking for about one hour to two hours at a time. One year of age eleven hours of sleep at night and two naps of an hour or so during the day are advisable. When the child reaches its second year one nap is sufficient.

This rest in the afternoon should be insisted upon until the child is at least four years old. Ten hours a night is adequate sleep for children between the ages of four and six years, and after that nine hours will usually answer the purpose.

Every Day Etiquette

"What should I do when giving a person my card to introduce her to someone else?" asked Alice.

"Across the top of your card write: 'Introducing Miss Helen R. Smith.' Put the card into a small envelope, which is left unsealed and addressed to the person to whom the introduction is to be made," instructed her mother.

Bids were opened at the office of Service Director Christian at noon today for seven different improvements contemplated by the city. The bids were for the paving of Charles, Hoover and Buena Vista streets, and Kibler avenue, the Ninth street sewer, the material and labor for four to six new units of the infiltration system at the water plant and for a new garage for housing motor vehicles used by the city.

Bidders on the paving jobs were the Coshocton Construction Co., R. H. Nutter & Co., Ben Bolin, Henderson Brothers, Vogelmeier Brothers, Schilling Construction Co., and M. T. Keeley. On the sewer contracts the bidders were S. J. White, A. R. Pitzer, Henderson Brothers, Reinhold Heating & Plumbing Co., and the W. H. Hearn Construction Co. On the garage building which Mr. Christian told council would cost about $1000, W. P. Ferguson bid $1004; Dooney and Shirer bid $1039 and J. W. Tyler bid $1450.

On the construction work at the infiltration plant, S. J. White bid $5890, and the Coshocton Construction Co. bid $6573. The bids for material for this work were submitted by James B. Clow & Son, Kennedy Valve Manufacturing Co., Bowler Foundry Co., and the T. S. Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co.

The work of tabulating the bids for the sewer and street paving and for the material for the infiltration system will be completed within a few days and the bids will be sent to the board of control for the awarding of contracts.

WATCHMAN GUARDING OAK TREE OF WHICH FRANK WAS HANGED.

(Associated Press Telegram) Marietta, Ga., Aug. 20.—Watchmen today were guarding the big oak tree on which the lifeless body of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, was found dangling last Tuesday morning, to prevent souvenir hunters, or others from molesting it. The tree soon is to be surrounded with a concrete wall, it is announced, and thus preserved by the owner, W. L. Frey, to mark the birth place of the alleged slayer of the Phagan girl.

Meanwhile, the tree is being guarded day and night. It was said that Mr. Frey had declined an offer of $200 for the tree and in going so the plan to build a wall around the "travelling" historic oak became known.

FRANK'S BURIAL

Took Place in Brooklyn Today—Widow Collapses After Services.

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Aug. 20.—The body of Leo M. Frank, who was hanged at Marietta, Ga., was buried today in Mount Carmel cemetery, Brooklyn. Within 20 minutes from the time the funeral had started the last of the burial services was concluded. Mrs. Lucile Frank, the widow, appeared calm and restrained until the burial service had concluded. Then she collapsed and was carried to an automobile. The services were conducted by Rabbi Alexander E. Lyons, of Brooklyn, and Rabbi David Marx of Atlanta.

GOVERNORS' DAY AT STATE FAIR WILL BE SEPT. 2

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Aug. 20.—Thursday, September 2, will be "Governors' Day" at the Ohio state fair. This was decided by the state board of agriculture at its meeting today. Governor Willis will make an address at 2:00 in the afternoon on "Governors' Day." An invitation will be sent to all political parties to take part in the exercises of the day.

One Good Turn.

Stranger—Seventeen year ago I landed here in your town broke. I struck you for a dollar. You gave it to me, saying you never turned a request like that down.

Citizen (eagerly)—"Yes?"

Stranger—"Well, are you still game?"—Judge.

DEATH LIST

(Continued from Page 1.) ing of several houses by the wind, the property loss is confined to stocks in business houses and household goods in houses which were flooded by the high water. Light, power, telephone, telegraph, water and communication are all cut off and communication is only by boat and rail to Beaufort.

RELIEF GOING

Into Galveston, but Little Outside Aid Will be Necessary.

(Associated Press Telegram) Houston, Texas, Aug. 20.—With bread and other food supplies from neighboring cities reaching Galveston, and a promise that railroad communication with the city, soon would be resumed, less anxiety early today weighed upon the state officials and people here interested in the relief of the distressed city than at any time since it was known Galveston had been in danger. As late messages contained reports that little outside aid would be necessary in Galveston, and that the deaths there would number less than a score, attention was turned to other spots which felt the force of the hurricane. Reports from other cities outside of Galveston early today showed a list of 101 known dead and 158 missing. Of those missing it was thought that more than half had perished.

When the crews of the dredge boats Sam Houston and San Jacinto were reported safe, the missing list was cut down from its previous mark of 254. The dredges were found last night aground near the Houston ship canal. It was announced that trains would be running into Texas City on regular schedule today.

A reassuring statement of conditions in the storm-swept area was issued here by Governor Ferguson, who has taken charge of the general relief work.

"My information is that the loss of life is not great and the local authorities will be able to handle the situation without assistance," he said.

Mentioned in German Plot

Captain Franz von Papen

Captain Franz von Papen, military attaché of the German embassy in Washington, has been prominently mentioned in connection with the story of the German plot now being published. A New York newspaper has presented what it calls a report made by him to his superiors on the question of buying the product of factories which manufacture chlorine gas, such as used by the Germans in the trenches about Ypres in April. In fact, his name runs all through the remarkable story about the operations of Dr. Heinrich K. Albert to help the German cause in the United States. It is broadly hinted in Washington that an investigation, which may result in a request on the German government for the recall of several of those in the embassy, may be made.

In Central Park, New York, bacteria are found to the extent of 1,500 every cubic foot.

ENTENTE POWERS OFFER BULGARIA SOME TERRITORY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Rome, Aug. 19.—Via Paris, Aug. 20.—The entente powers, according to a positive statement made by the Sofia correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia, have offered to Bulgaria that part of Macedonia given to her by the Serbo-Bulgarian treaty of 1912, with the right of immediate occupation. The controversy over the part of Macedonia contested by Serbia and the cause of the second Balkan war will be settled after the present war ends.

Proportionate compensation is to be given to Serbia including the city of Kavala with the districts of Kavala and Seres, with the right of immediate occupation.

Bulgaria on her side renounces forever her pretensions to Saloniki, Vodina and Uskub. She promises also to declare war immediately upon Turkey, aided by funds of the four allies. Bulgaria, the correspondent declares, will receive further territorial concessions in Turkey.

It is believed that Serbia and Greece will give under pressure by the entente powers, but negotiations will be lengthened by the reluctance of the King of Greece to consent to any cession of territory.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

own hand its grave."—The Times (weekly edition), London, England, November 13, 1914.

But let it be remembered that divine revelation has decreed the doom of the world when Turkey falls in Asia. The downfall of Turkey in Asia is the last trumpet blast announcing the death knell of all the nations at the battle of Armageddon. This is no time to put our trust in princes nor in riches. Our only hope is in God and his Son, through whom alone we have redemption from our sins by faith. The day of God is drawing nigh and hasten greatly. Every one will then have to meet God at the judgment bar to give an account of himself. "Prepare to meet thy God." J. D. M.

"The Spoilers." In picturizing the verile and undying romance of Rex Beach, "The Spoilers," has made a new revelation historical, showing once again that fiction has a higher aim than fact in its larger appeal to interest in a new pictorial triumph both to imprison and release interest. Charles Dickens wrote remarkable character creations in great variety, and in the telling of his stories, frequently revealed abuses and conditions that inspired drastic reforms; so this vivid page of yesterday, from the facile and fearless pen of Rex Beach, showed the trails and ruts of greed and greed, and pointed out their glaring cruelties and illegalities so trenchantly, that it "started something"—something that arrested the spoilation of Alaska.

This thrilling romance of the gold fields of our great Northwest, if strong in sentiment, is steeped in fierce primitive fashions inspired by insidious evils that invest the closing coils of a great conspiracy for robbing honest toil of its golden fruits, and it has braved privations with death ever imminent, day by day or through the long night of the Midnight Sun. It has the better and the brighter things in contrasting figures to the rugged miners, in sweet and refining as well as in interest in unusual ways, sobering and surprising as it touches the hearts and actions of rugged and battling men. These strong elements, in the melting pot of this romance, fuse to make the great work intense, picturesque and potential before compare, so far as current production of motion pictures is concerned.

"The Spoilers" had its first view in Chicago, in Orchestra hall, March 25, 1914, before an unusual audience of critical and sensitive guests, who felt the gripping potency of the big work, when it was first revealed after the strong, sweeping official endorsement of the new Board of Censors. This assembly embraced the literati and representatives of the allied arts, and their frequent applause emphasized the unusual power, and the eloquent fidelity of the production. The subsequent expression of the unsolicited opinion from those present—writers, playwrights, artists, and the critical fraternity, was enthusiastic and a universally favorable endorsement of "The Spoilers," as a motographic masterpiece. Auditorium, matinee and night, August 20 and 21.

MARKSMEN AMONG CITIZENS
BEST NUCLEUS OF POSSIBLE
VOLUNTEER ARMY.

National Rifle Association Will Attend Conference on National Defense in October.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—Announcement today that the National Rifle Association of America will participate in the Conference on National Defense, which is to be held in Washington, October 4-7, immediately following the Grand Army of the Republic encampment, will be of great interest to the veterans who will attend the encampment and the conference.

In the Union armies of the civil war were hundreds of thousands of good shots and thousands of expert marksmen and sharpshooters. Many of these "dead shots" will attend the Washington encampment and will pay particular attention to that section of the National Defense Conference which will consider the training of the citizenry of this country in the use of the military rifle.

Col. John McElroy, past senior vice commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, says that training in the use of the rifle is one of the most important subjects to be considered at the conference.
"Good riflemen among the citizens are the best nucleus for our volunteer armies," declared Colonel Mc-Elroy today.

The National Rifle Association of America claims to be the oldest and most practical peace society in this country. It was organized in 1871 for the purpose of teaching the citizens of the country how to efficiently handle the army rifle, thus making its citizens capable of becoming efficient volunteers to defend their country in time of need. Officers of the Association claim that if we had in this country a million citizens trained in the use of the service arm that it would be a more potent factor in the maintenance of peace than the orations of a million peace-at-any price men. This National Association receives no federal support and its work has been maintained by the donations of patriotically inclined citizens through the taking out of life memberships. Among such men may be mentioned ex-Presidents Taft and Roosevelt, ex-Senator Root, former Secretary of State Robert Bacon, former Secretary of the Navy Meyer, former Secretaries of War Dickinson and Wright, Senators Wetmore and Warren and such prominent business leaders as Judge Gary, John Wanamaker, H. C. Frick, George Westinghouse and hundreds of others. Ex-Senator Root says of the work of the N. R. A.:

"The purposes of the National Rifle Association of America are of the greatest importance and the methods by which it proposes to attain them are simple, direct and suited to American life and character."

A great impetus was given to rifle training among citizens by the passage of an act by Congress last year authorizing the free distribution of Krag rifles and ammunition to rifle clubs and the work of organizing the clubs and carrying on the training was put in the hands of the National Rifle Association by the Secretary of War. Since that time over 200 clubs have been organized and to them has been issued 506 Krag rifles and 550,150 rounds of ammunition.

The National Rifle Association has asked the War Department to approve a measure for the adoption of a national policy of range construction, claiming that the proposition to train civilians of the country can never amount to anything from a national standpoint until ranges are provided where the citizens can shoot. There has been a great demand by writers on military subjects and the press in general for the adoption by this country of a modified Swiss system, but most of these writers overlook the fact that the sine qui non of that system is rifle training, the important feature of a soldier's duties which are greatly neglected in this country. Provision also must be made to furnish government rifle clubs with ammunition and target supplies as well as ranges, and army officers should be detailed as instructors and supervisors for these clubs.

At the present time there are enrolled as members of the National Rifle Association shooting under its rules and regulations, and making annual reports of their work, 500 government rifle clubs, 110 school and 57 college clubs, all training with the military rifle.

FAMOUS LECTURER AT AUDITORIUM ON NEXT SUNDAY EVE

Pastor Russell, well-known author and lecturer, pastor of London and Brooklyn Tabernacles, and head of the International Bible Students Association, has been secured for his famous, timely lecture, "The Battle of Armageddon," in this city at 8 p. m. at the Auditorium theater next Sunday. He comes at the invitation of the local body of the International Bible Students Association.

Since the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, Pastor Russell has been delivering a series of lectures on the great conflict and its place in Bible prophecy. Special attention has been called to these because the Brooklyn pastor has for many years in public lectures and in his books on Bible study, which have attained an enormous circulation, expressed the conviction, based upon the interpretation of Bible prophecies, that a time of intense trouble upon the world would be due in the autumn of 1914. He sees in this present struggle the prelude to the "Battle of Armageddon," and believes the establishment of Christ's Kingdom will quickly follow.

Among other great changes, Pastor Russell believes the establishment of a separate Jewish State in Palestine is near, and that the present conflict will hasten and assist in this project. Asked why he believes the return of the Hebrew race and their establishment in their ancient homeland near, the Pastor replied that his view is based upon many Bible prophecies, now apparently in course of fulfillment. According to his understanding, he declares, the period of time spoken of by Christ when He stated that "Jerusalem should be trodden down of the Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled," closed with the year 1914, and the great European war is one of the foretold indications of their close.

The proclamation of the Czar of Pastor Russell who will lecture at the Auditorium next Sunday evening.

Russia issued last September, giving the Jews in the empire certain liberties and the same freedom of faith enjoyed by any other religion in Russia. Pastor Russell notes as one of the evidences of a change in their affairs as a people. "All official discrimination against the Jews

has ceased," continued the Pastor.
"I believe that the treading down of Jerusalem has ceased, because the time for the Gentiles to tread down Israel has come to an end, and that now they may re-establish their kingdom in Palestine for there is nothing according to the Bible prophecies that intervenes." The Pastor's interest in Jewish questions dates back several decades, it is said.
He has made repeated visits to the Holy Land investigating conditions and noting the fulfillment of Bible prophecies respecting the return of the Hebrews there, and the reported increase in fertility of the soil of Palestine.

Announcement has been made that admission to next Sunday's lecture at the Auditorium theater will be free, and no collection taken.

BANKERS

DISCUSS IN NEW YORK PROBLEM OF RELIEVING FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Situation—Proposals Previously Put Forward by Subcommittee Were Unanimously Approved.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Aug. 20.—A meeting of bankers was held yesterday to discuss the exchange rate problem, but no announcement was made except that "the proposals previously put forward by a subcommittee were unanimously approved."

The morning Post strongly endorses the plan to send a committee of London bankers to New York, recommending that the delegation be headed by Sir Edward Holden, who is widely known in the United States and who played a leading part in London's efforts of assistance at the time of the Wall street crisis in 1907, when the situation was greatly relieved by shipments of gold from England. The paper hopes the bankers' committee will be supported by representatives of the treasury or the government.

"If such a committee takes up the question it is believed the actual details of a plan for establishing suitable credits in America will not be decided until after conferences have been completed between the committee and American financial interests."

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, Aug. 20.—Misses Marie and Lucille Tibbit, assisted by their house guest, Miss Waller of St. Louis, entertained about twenty young ladies yesterday at their home in West Elm street. The affair was delightfully planned as a "shower" for Miss Emily Spencer, whose approaching marriage to Mr. Roy B. Deer, 15, was recently announced, and in whose honor many little festivities have been arranged.

Misses Leone Morrow and Ethel Montgomery of Du Bois, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. Calvin Ressler in Granville street.

Mrs. Fanny L. Perry of Delaware, O., is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Larimore, in East College street.

Mr. Karl Price and son Arthur have gone on a trip to Washington, D. C., and the mountains of West Virginia. His daughter, Miss Eva Price, will visit friends in Baltimore, Md., for a fortnight.

Miss M. E. Penney entertained at her home in Broadway last evening, with one of her delightful dinners, in honor of her house guest, Miss Stone of Chillicothe.

Mrs. R. D. Williamson and two sons have returned to their home on the Welsh Hills road after a two weeks' visit with friends in Cleveland. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Ben Leese and two children, who will spend a fortnight with them.

Miss Laura Morgan of St. Louis, formerly a resident of Granville, has come to the city of Mrs. A. K. Follett for a few days.

The Granville chapter of The Elks' Daughters, that has been sending samples of vegetables and flowers to Columbus, sent two baskets of flowers to Merry Hospital this morning, which were shipped by the chairman of the committee, Miss Clara Evans.

Mrs. Nellie Kemp and daughter Grace of Kokomo, Ind., who have been visiting Mrs. Kemp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Fately, have returned to their home. Mr. and Mrs. Fately now occupy the Fosdick cottage on Centerville street.

President Clark W. Chamberlain leaves tonight for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where he will deliver a sermon in the Baptist church, Sunday morning.

Friends of Dr. Zella A. Dixon of Chicago, who also claims residence in Granville, were glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this talented lecturer this afternoon at 7 o'clock in the East Main Street Methodist church in Newark. The occasional is the county convention of the W. C. T. U., which was held all day, beginning at 9:30 a. m., with the president, Mrs. Lucy Van Kirk in the chair. Mrs. Dixon will soon return to her home in Chicago, whence she will go on an important lecture tour to many western cities. This convention is an important one in which all friends of temperance should be interested.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Carney were hosts at the dinner given Wednesday evening at their home on the Berg street hill by the members of the Winter Picnic club in compliment to their husbands. The affair was delightful in every detail, about forty guests being seated at long tables on the lawn, handsomely decorated for the occasion. The dinner was a triumph of culinary art, well served and highly enjoyed, not the least charming feature being the beautiful setting, the grand old trees, the smooth turf, the glimpses of the peaceful valley below.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Arnold of Mt. Vernon, accompanied by their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Arnold of New York City, motored to Granville Wednesday where they were guests for the day at the home of Dr. G. F. McKibben. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Arnold expect to return to Granville next week for a few days' visit with her father and sister before returning to their home in New York.

Miss Carrie Howland is in Columbus the guest of relatives for a few days.

Prof. and Mrs. Karl Eschman, who have been absent from Granville since commencement, have returned to their home in West Maple street. They expect to occupy the Carl Paige Wood cottage in Park Drive during the coming year, and will move about September 1.

Mrs. Frank Ray and her younger daughter, Frances, are spending a few days in Columbus, their former home.

Mr. Karl Baib of Xenia, O., has been a guest at the Judge Swartz mansion in East Elm street for several days.

Mrs. C. E. Stanton is entertaining her sister, Mrs. J. F. Torrence of Rochester, Pa., at her home in East Broadway.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Paige Wood of Boston, formerly of Granville will wish to congratulate them upon the arrival in their home of a splendid nine pound boy, who already bears the name of Henry Thurston Wood.

Dr. Frank Carney, who was on the summer school faculty of Cornell University, has returned home. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Florence, who has spent two months in the east.

Another new arrival, but on the other side of the globe, will specially interest the friends of the Shepards and the Thornes. This fine ten pound boy, David Bryan, Jr., arrived at the home of Dr. and Mrs. David Bryan (Mildred Thorne) on July 12, 1915, in Hwangsinew, China. He is the great grandson of the late Doctor Shepards, founder of Shepards College; the great grandson of Mrs. Mary Thorne and great great grandson of Captain Levi Rose, one of the first company of colonists in Granville.

About eighty guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Price in South Mulberry street yesterday for a reunion of the different branches of the family. A splendid dinner was served, and a thoroughly good time enjoyed by all. Representatives of the Farrel, Claypool and Miller families were present at the dinner.

A slight mistake was made in the report of the national convention of Beta Theta Pi at the San Francisco Exposition, to which Mr. Charles Willis rode as delegate from the Denison chapter. According to latest reports the meetings will be held from August 21 to September 3, and Mr. Willis will leave about Saturday.

Lima, O., Aug. 20.—At the annual reunion of the Big Four families at DeLong Grove, near Cridersville, three miles south of Lima, late yesterday afternoon, four hundred people fell when a circus-like arrangement of seats gave way as a photograph of the reunion was being taken. One Big Fact Not Advertised is the 2 1/2 grains of a harmful drug in the average cup of coffee.

Coffee roasters know that there is caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug in coffee. But they dodge the issue and talk about flavour. Proof lies in the fact that some coffee connoisseurs have tried, without much success, to rid coffee of its caffeine.

Daily blows of this coffee-drug finally result for most people in nervousness, heart flutter or some other form of caffeine poisoning.

You may not think coffee hurts you, but to be sure, quit coffee ten days and use the pure food-drink—

POSTUM

It is made of wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses. The tasty, Java-like flavour makes the change easy as well as beneficial—and there's no drug or other harmful element in Postum.

There are two forms of Postum: POSTUM CEREAL—the original form—must be boiled—15c. and 25c. packages. INSTANT POSTUM—the soluble form—is made in the cup with hot water, instantly—30c. and 50c. tins. The cost per cup is about the same for both kinds.

MANY WOMEN TESTIFY.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I was so well pleased with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that I am glad to endorse it. I was run-down and had female trouble and I doctored with several medicines with no benefit. The 'Favorite Prescription' put me on the road to health. I used seven bottles and this medicine was the means of my recovery. I have been well since, with no return of the trouble. I have recommended this to others who have come back to thank me on account of the benefits they received."—MRS. MARY J. DILLINGHAM, 136 Norwick St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lancaster, Ohio.—"I have had a test of 'Favorite Prescription' and it proved a very satisfactory medicine. I took it in the spring. I was run-down, tired and worn-out. I used the contents of two bottles and it did all I could expect and more. I felt just fine after I had used it. You may say it is a good tonic and strengthening medicine for women."—MRS. J. W. KEAN, 363 E. Main St., Lancaster, Ohio.

The mighty restorative power of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription speedily causes all womanly troubles to disappear—compels the organs to properly perform their natural functions, corrects displacements, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women.

What Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for thousands it will do for you. Get it this very day from any medicine dealer, in either liquid or tablet form.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, easiest to take. One tiny, Sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

TEUTON ADVANCE SLOWLY FORCES RUSSIANS BACK

DESPERATE RESISTANCE OF
CZAR'S ARMIES BROKEN IN MANY PLACES

Field Marshal Mackensen's Forces
Pressing Forward Energetically
From the South.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Aug. 20.—Via London, Aug. 20.—The continued advance of the German and Austro-Hungarian troops on the 15th in the movement to encircle Prest-Litovsk is described by the correspondent of the Allgemeine Zeitung at Austrian press headquarters. The desperate resistance of the Russians was broken at many points and they were forced to retire to prepared defenses in the immediate vicinity of the fortress. The right wing of Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces pressed forward energetically from the south. An Austro-Hungarian army corps was pushed across the Bug river east of Dobrynka. Archduke Joseph Ferdinand's troops advanced from Janow and narrowed the circle. Northwest of Prest-Litovsk the Germans forced passage across the Bug at several points.

The Russian retreat from Poland is reported to be attended by unprecedented and indescribable misery among the civil population. German officers returning to headquarters report thousands upon thousands of Poles returning in utter want to destroyed villages. Thousands of wagons and refugees block the roads from the Visula to the Bug, mothers with children vainly seeking food.

Reports from the governments of Bessarabia, Kherson, Podolia and South Volhynia indicate that the Russians are planning to evacuate this territory soon. Harvesting and threshing are going ahead feverishly, but no efforts are being made to plant winter crops.

was giving hours of thought to the Arabic case.

Only two of the dispatches had been received and they gave the first of no independent investigation merely repeating the reports of the White Star line. The United States will decide its course upon the reports of its own officials.

Ambassador Page forwarded a White Star report that the ship was torpedoed without warning and Vice Consul Thompson at Queenstown made a similar report. Neither accounted for Mrs. Josephine S. Bruguiere nor Dr. Edmund Woods, the two Americans still missing.

While officials here are keeping their minds open during the hours which will be required for assembling the official evidence, they are thinking about these points:

Whether any Americans have been lost and whether the Arabic actually was torpedoed without warning.

Whether the Arabic, by having been conveyed on the beginning of her voyage, had, under international law, partaken of the character of her convey and waived her right as a noncombatant.

Whether by proceeding to the vicinity of the steamer Dunsley, which had just previously been torpedoed, the Arabic commander introduced any qualifying circumstances by violating the rules of the British admiralty which forbids a ship to risk itself by attempting to assist another which has been torpedoed.

A view prevailed that an attempt by the Arabic to succor those on another torpedoed ship was justified and was not affected by the British admiralty rule which was made as a matter of policy for warships and was not a matter of international right. Whether the Arabic's movement toward the Dunsley might be interpreted as an attempt to ram the submarine is another point to be developed.

Secretary Lansing refused to discuss these or any other features of the case. He said no orders had been given to the embassy in London or the American consuls to forward evidence from the passengers and crew, as all officials understood they were expected to do so immediately. Dependence will be placed particularly upon the evidence of Americans on the Arabic.

There is no attempt in official quarters to minimize the situation confronting the president. It investigation develops a violation of American rights in defiance of the last note to Germany, which gave notice in final terms that another sinking like that of the Lusitania would be considered an act "deliberately unfriendly."

The prospect of severance of diplomatic relations with Germany again came forward but it was understood that if such a course should be decided upon, it would not immediately be announced.

Certain arrangements to transfer to some other neutral the humanitarian trusts in the war zone which the United States has undertaken for the world would first be necessary.

Officials awaited developments hourly with evidence of sober earnestness which portrayed their concern for a situation which admittedly has never been more grave.

The Associated Press today carries a symposium of comment from the leading American newspapers on the torpedoing of the steamer Arabic by a German submarine. With few exceptions the action of Germany in this instance is considered a "deliberately unfriendly act," and support is promised President Wilson in whatever vigorous stand this government takes in the crisis. Only some newspapers in Germany defend the act of torpedoing the Arabic.

TWO AMERICANS

Unaccounted for, Wisconsin Surgeon, and a Wealthy Widow.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Aug. 20.—Two Americans were still unaccounted for today in lists received here giving the names of those saved from the White Star steamer Arabic, torpedoed and sunk yesterday morning by a German submarine off the South coast of Ireland. They were Dr. Edmund F. Wood, of Jacksonville, Wis., and Mrs. Josephine S. Bruguiere, a wealthy American widow who has been living in Europe for some years, but who is well known in New York, Newport and San Francisco.

The local office of the White Star line had no record of the safety of two other Americans, James Houlihan, of Philadelphia, and Thomas Elmore of New York, but the names of Houlihan and Elmore appeared on a list of sixteen American survivors received by the state department at Washington from Lewis C. Thompson, the United States consul at Queenstown.

Reports to the White Star line showed that 20 persons in all of those aboard the lost liner had not been accounted for. Eight of these were passengers.

The Arabic carried 423 persons when she left Liverpool Wednesday, 181 passengers and 242 in her crew.

A dispatch from Queenstown this morning said on the authority of Consul Thompson that there were only twenty-one American citizens among the Arabic's passengers. Advances received last night placed the number of Americans on board at twenty-six.

Dr. Wood, one of the Americans unaccounted for, is a leading Wisconsin surgeon. He was on his way home after completing a tour of duty for the Red Cross with the British hospital corps in Flanders. Mrs. Bruguiere until her marriage was Miss Josephine S. Sather, the step-mother, Mrs. James J. Sather, of San Francisco, who left $700,000 to the University of California.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon New York time, no further details as to the method, time and place, of the sinking yesterday of the White Star liner steamer Arabic had been received by the Associated Press since a dispatch from Queenstown at 5:45 this morning, London time, (12:45 a. m. New York time) giving Captain Finch's account of the disaster.

The only messages to come through from London concerned the American passengers on board the vessel. One of these was timed 9 a. m. and the other at 1:23 p. m. London time.

The New York office of the White Star line was equally without additional information and reports from Washington set forth that the only two dispatches to be received by the state department gave the fruits of no independent investigation, merely transmitting reports of the White Star line.

Inquiries sent to the London office of the Associated Press early today have brought no reply and it is inferred that the British censorship has been operating to check the transmission to the United States of news bearing on certain details of the circumstances under which the Arabic was sent to the bottom. It is conjectured that there may be circumstances in connection with the sinking of the Arabic of a military character that have caused the suppression of dispatches conveying such details, or the referring of these messages back to higher officials.

SOCIETY WOMAN

Of San Francisco, Newport and Paris Among Those Missing.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Josephine S. Bruguiere, one of the American passengers of the Arabic reported unaccounted for, is the widow of Emile Bruguiere, and mother of Dr. Edgar S. Bruguiere, of this city.

Mrs. Bruguiere was returning from Paris to New York, accompanied by her youngest son, Louis Bruguiere. Louis Bruguiere is listed among those saved when the Arabic went down.

Mrs. Bruguiere had for several years maintained a residence in Paris in addition to her villa, Castlewood, at Newport, R. I. She was prominent socially, on both sides of the Atlantic.

The Bruguieres made their home in San Francisco and Monterey, California, before going to Newport.

TWO SMALL SHIPS SUNK BY GERMANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Aug. 20.—Two small British steamers, the Restormel and the Baron Erskine, have been sunk by German submarines. Both crews were saved.

The Restormel, 1,340 tons, was built at Greenock, in 1901, and owned by J. Cory and Sons, Limited, of Cardiff.

The Baron Erskine, 3,505 tons, was built at Dunbarton in 1911. Her owner was the Hogarth Shipping company of Glasgow.
